HudsonValleyHelpWanted.com moves BACK, hiring 30 employees

CENTRAL VALLEY, March 7, 2014 – Hudson Valley job seekers and employers have a reason to celebrate – their favorite help wanted job board is back in town – HudsonValleyHelpWanted.com and they're hiring as many as 30 new employees.

RegionalHelpWanted.com, Inc., the parent company of HudsonValleyHelpWanted.com and 450 other locally promoted job boards across the country and in Canada, was re-acquired by its founder, Eric Straus. The move also brings back the company's former management team and moves its headquarters back to the Hudson Valley from Denver.

The company is purchasing and moving into an office building in Central Valley, NY, near Woodbury Commons. "We are thrilled to acquire back HudsonValleyHelpWanted.com and its sister job boards... and move the whole company back where it belongs... to the beautiful Hudson Valley!" said Eric Straus, CEO of RegionalHelpWanted.com. "We are in the process of closing on an office building and hiring 30 positions – some in customer service and sales and several IT and computer programming positions. We're thrilled to be coming home!"

The acquired recruiting sites include HudsonValleyHelpWanted.com, CapitalAreaHelpWanted.com and 17 other job boards in New York State, along with more than 400 others across North America.

Interested job seekers can learn more about the opportunities at HudsonValleyHelpWanted.com at the upcoming Career Fair on March 12 at the Grandview in Poughkeepsie, New York. Job seekers can register in advance at www.HudsonValleyHelpWanted.com/careerfairs
